PHILADELPHIA (June 14, 2013) — AMResorts was recognized by leading business magazine, CNN's Expansión, as one of 2013's Top Companies or Súper Empresas. After an extensive evaluation process, AMResorts was ranked number nine in a group of 148 leading companies with more than 3000 employees. AMResorts also was the only company in the hospitality industry to have a position on the list's top 10 in its category.

This is the seventh year for CNN Expansión's Súper Empresas ranking, and AMResorts' second year participating in the evaluation process, which was conducted by Top Companies and audited by Price Waterhouse Coopers. AMResorts was recognized for its corporate culture and values, human resource procedures and commitment to employee development. The company's best practices also were spotlighted in the magazine's "Súper Empresas 2013" special issue currently on stands.

"To be ranked amongst some of the most important companies in their category, and to achieve a top 10 placement, makes us extremely proud and further validates our efforts and the company's direction," said Gonzalo del Peon, AMResorts' President. "This is an especially important recognition for us as we enter particularly important growth phase, which would not be possible without our people. They are the very foundation of our success."
